MAYSVILLE, KY., MONDAY, FEBRUARY 20, 1893.

NUMBER 76.

PRINCESS KAIULANI.

HER FIRST APPEAL ISSUED.

She Sends an Address to the American People—The Queen's Envoy Says That No Struggle Will Be Made Against Annexation—The King of the Gilbert Islands May Appeal to the United States for a Protectorate.

LONDON, Feb. 20.—The Princess Kaiulani sends the following address to the American people:

LONDON, Feb. 18.

To the American People:

Four years ago, at the request of Mr. Thurston, then Hawaiian cabinet minister, I was sent away to England to be educated privately and fitted for the position which, by the constitution of Hawaii, I was to inherit. For all these years I have patiently and in exile striven to fit myself for my return this year to my native country.

I now am told that Mr. Thurston is in Washington asking you to take away my flag and my throne. No one tells me even this officially. Have I done anything wrong that this wrong should be done to me and my people? I am coming to Washington to plead for my throne, my nation and my flag. Will not the great American people hear me?

KAIULANI.

THE QUEEN'S ENVOY.

He Declares No Struggle Will Be Made Against Annexation.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—While the annexation commissioners were paying their respects to Secretary Elkins at the war department Saturday their diplomatic antagonist, Mr. Paul Neuman, the ex-queen's representative, was in another part of the building in consultation with Acting Secretary Wharton, of the state department, with whom he had a long talk concerning the object of his visit.

Mr. Wharton could of course do nothing, and Mr. Neuman expressed himself as satisfied that his only chance for successfully representing the claims of the ex-queen lay through the medium of Congress.

He said: "We do not intend to make a struggle against annexation. If the United States government sees fit to annex Hawaii we shall make no complaint."

WANTS A PROTECTORATE.

The King of the Gilbert Islands May Appeal to Uncle Sam.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 20.—Among those who arrived on the Australian steamer Monowai were ex-American Consul A. Rick and Mrs. Rick, from Butarjari, Gilbert islands. Mr. Rick said he received a letter from the state department last November ordering him to close his office and return home, as the seizing of the islands by England made his further stay there unnecessary. Rick shut up shop Nov. 26, and sailed for Sydney. He says the old king made a pathetic appeal to him to interest the American government in his behalf, as he claims his people prefer an American to an English protectorate.

Rick thinks the king will soon lose his mind if he is not relieved of his present worry, in which case the English will appoint a king who will be their tool. He says American trade will soon be ruined as the British traders are favored by their government and the feeling against Americans is strong. The natives prefer to deal with Americans, but they are given to understand that it will not be healthy for them to do so.

FREIGHT WRECK.

A Smashup in Which Four Men Were Seriously Injured.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Feb. 20.—At 7 o'clock Saturday night a disastrous freight wreck occurred on the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago railroad at Monroeville, twenty miles east of here.

Two sections of No. 73 collided. The engine of the second section dashed into the caboose car of the first section. The caboose car and four freight cars were hurled into the air. The engine and seven cars of the second were dashed into the ditch.

Graham inhaled escaping steam and was scalded internally. He will die. The engineer and brakeman may recover. The trainmen on the first section leaped into a snowbank and escaped.

HORRIBLE ACCIDENT.

A Red-hot Bar of Iron Driven Through a Man's Neck.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 20.—Joseph Benson, employed as hooker-on at the Rankin Wire works, met with a horrible accident while at work Saturday, which will result in his death. Benson was working near a set of rolls, when a red-hot bar of iron half an inch in thickness flew out and struck him under the left ear.

It passed entirely through his neck, and several feet of the rod, which was still being forced out of the rolls, had been forced through the gaping wound before Benson was rescued. A fellow workman succeeded in pulling the bar out after Benson had sunk to the ground unconscious. Benson was removed to his home in Braddock, and several physicians summoned. They pronounced his injuries fatal, and his death a question of only a few hours. Benson has a wife and two children.

SEVERE SNOWSTORM.

Howling Blizzard Raging Across the Northern States.

NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—The storm which had been brewing all day yesterday broke over the city at 11:15 last night. For a time it made things lively for pedestrians, who could not see more than a few feet ahead of them through the snow, which was whirled along on the wings of a gale blowing at the rate of forty miles an hour.

The heavy blow lasted about ten minutes and then died down to a moderate speed, but the snow continued to fall thick and fast. The temperature by midnight was four degrees colder than it was at 11 o'clock.

Sudden Drop of Mercury.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Feb. 20.—One of the most furious blizzards ever known struck this city at 11 o'clock last night and lasted three-quarters of an hour. The snow was so heavy that it was impossible to cross the street, and the wind blew a hurricane. The mercury dropped ten degrees in half an hour.

Mercury Still Dropping.

ELMIRA, N. Y., Feb. 20.—The worst storm of the season is prevailing here. The wind at one time attained almost cyclonic force, while a blinding snowstorm filled the air. The mercury promises to reach the zero mark before many hours.

Wind Sixty Miles an Hour.

BUFFALO, Feb. 20.—Snow has been falling here for the past twelve hours and is now three feet deep on Main street. The wind at one time during yesterday afternoon reached a velocity of sixty miles an hour.

Throughout Pennsylvania.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 20.—The worst storm in years is prevailing throughout western Pennsylvania, eastern Pennsylvania and portions of West Virginia. Eighteen inches of snow has fallen. The wind is blowing a gale and the snow is drifting badly. All trains are from one to four hours late.

Throughout Michigan.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Feb. 20.—The worst blizzard of the season struck this city yesterday, completely impeding street railway traffic for the first time in the history of the system. A coal famine is threatened in consequence of the blockade of railways entering here.

PNEUMATIC MAIL TUBES.

Highly Successful Tests Made by Postmaster General Wanamaker.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 20.—In the presence of one hundred distinguished persons the first official trial of the pneumatic tube for mail transit in America was successfully given in the Philadelphia postoffice Friday afternoon. The tube runs from the sub-postoffice to the general office, Ninth and Chestnut streets, a distance of a little over half a mile.

Postmaster General Wanamaker, after declaring that the system meant rapid communication between cities all over the world, at 4:18 o'clock he himself sent through a Bible wrapped in an American flag and a message which he composed the initial package. It reached the sub-station in one minute and three seconds, or at the rate of forty-five feet per second, with a pressure of six pounds to the square inch. The message read:

"First use of the first pneumatic postal tube in the United States is to send through a copy of the Holy Scriptures, the greatest message ever given to the world. Covering the Bible is the American flag, the emblem of freedom of 65,000,000 of happy people."

A package of local newspapers was then sent through. From the sub-station came a pair of shoes, a loaf of bread and a laundered shirt. As a concluding test the first regular mail was sent from the sub-office to the general postoffice.

As a practical test of the safety of the tube President William J. Kelly, of the Electric Pneumatic Transit company, sent his gold watch in a shoe to the sub-station and the timepiece was returned in good shape. The result particularly pleased the postmaster general. In every respect the work was a success, and at its conclusion Mr. Wanamaker had nothing but words of praise for the new system.

HOW THE BRITISH DRILL.

At the World's Fair You Can See for a Consideration.

CHICAGO, Feb. 20.—Chicago is to have an exhibition of the tact and maneuvers of the British army during the world's fair, given by 200 or 300 ex-soldiers of the queen, armed and accoutred as they were when in her service. So says Attorney Frank J. Weigley, in whose office the papers were drawn for the British Military Tournament company, capital $250,000, license to incorporate, which was issued by the secretary of state.

"The undertaking was born in England," said Mr. Weigley. "The promoters are from London and a good share of the stock has been placed there. The rest is provided for here. All of the men will be brought over from England. They will be ex-soldiers commanded by ex-officers of the British army. They will be equipped as representatives of the several branches of the English service."

Freight Engine Explodes.

FORT WORTH, Tex., Feb. 20.—A Texas and Pacific freight engine exploded in the yards here yesterday, killing one man, injuring half a dozen others and creating terrible havoc. The shock broke window glass in the immediate neighborhood and at many points for eighteen blocks away. Huge pieces of the engine were hurled to almost incredible distances.

THE POPE'S JUBILEE.

Celebration of His Elevation to the Episcopate.

THE FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY.

Nearly Every Catholic Church in the World Observe the Day—A Great Event in Rome—Extracts from Cardinal Gibbons' Address—The Day at Other Places.

ROME, Feb. 20.—At daybreak the pealing of church bells announced the celebration of the pope's episcopal jubilee. By 4 o'clock thousands of pilgrims, priests and citizens were crowded before the doors of St. Peter's. At 5 o'clock two battalions of infantry were drawn up before the cathedral so as to be ready to help the 200 or more gen darmes in preserving order. The crowd swelled steadily, but remained quiet, despite the tremendous pressure caused by some 5,000 ticket holders in their hopeless struggle to get near the doors.

At 6 o'clock the cathedral doors were opened and the foremost of the crowd swept in. Within half an hour the great building was packed to the steps. Thirty thousand pilgrims and 25,000 or 30,000 Catholics from this city gained admittance. Not fewer than 40,000 persons, many of them ticket holders, were turned away by the military, who cleared the spaces round the building so as to prevent disorder when the service closed.

POPE LEO XIII.

The pope entered the cathedral at 9:45, pale but smiling, and apparently in somewhat better health than usual. The cathedral rang with tumultuous cheering as the pope was borne toward the altar. His holiness officiated at the special jubilee mass, intoning the opening words of the Te Deum and giving his blessing in a clear, penetrating voice.

The mass lasted until 10:45, but apparently did not fatigue his holiness. He remained in the cathedral forty-five minutes after the celebration, and then proceeded to his apartments. The crowd dispersed slowly. At noon most of them had gone, and a quarter of an hour later the military withdrew.

The weather was magnificent all day. The air was mild and dry and the sun shown uninterruptedly. Yesterday evening St. Peter's and all the other churches, all the convents and hundreds of private houses were illuminated. The streets were thronged, and the square in front of St. Peter's was almost impassable. Without exception, however, the people were perfectly orderly. Not an arrest was made.

King Humbert and Queen Margaret took their usual drive through the city yesterday, and were everywhere saluted respectfully.

Throughout Austria.

VIENNA, Feb. 20.—The papal jubilee was celebrated in all large Austrian cities yesterday. Early in the morning flags were flying from all the public buildings and most of the private houses. In the evening most buildings were illuminated. Solemn mass was said in the Catholic churches of the empire. Gambilberti, papal nuncio in this city, received for several hours in the afternoon. All conspicuous members of the royal family were present, except the emperor, who sent his congratulations directly to the pope. All the cabinet ministers, most of the diplomats and hundreds of the nobility and deputies expressed their congratulations to the nuncio.

THE DAY IN BALTIMORE.

Extracts from the Address of Cardinal Gibbons.

BALTIMORE, Feb. 20.—Cardinal Gibbons, all the priests attached to the cathedral, Rev. Dr. Magnien and all the Sulpician fathers and seminarians in the seminary of St. Mary of St. Sulpice, together with an immense congregation, united yesterday in the cathedral in the service of the solemn high mass, the occasion being to unite with the holy father himself in Rome in the celebration of his elevation to the episcopate, fifty years ago.

The seminarians sang a portion of the mass, and Cardinal Gibbons preached the sermon. His theme was: "The Supremacy of the Pope and the Words of the Gospel: Feed My Sheep; Feed My Lambs; the Pastors and the People."

In his address the cardinal said: "You might as well shut out the light of day and the air of heaven from your daily walk as to exclude the pope from his legitimate sphere in the hierarchy in the church. The history of the United

"This supremacy of the pope, it may be objected, has been denied. I grant it. And so has every truth of revelation been denied—from the very existence of God even to the resurrection of the flesh. But notwithstanding these denials the truths of revelation remain—indelibly stamped on the apostle's creed; engraven on the hearts of millions of people, and to whom they are a source of undying consolation. The denials of these truths can no more shake them than flitting clouds disturb the sun in its course.

"The supremacy of the pope has been denied by men who chafed under the salutary discipline of the church and were unwilling to abide by the decision of the holy see. David did not cease to be king after Absalom had sought to dethrone him.

"A yearning has gone forth from many noble and earnest hearts for the union of Christendom. That earnest desire has my heartfelt sympathy, and I would make any sacrifice, even of life itself, for the consummation of so great a blessing. The American people, with their practical good sense and energetic dispositions, aided by the grace of God, if united in a common bond of faith and charity, would convert the world.

"But there can be only one sure basis for this reunion—that established by Christ himself—the recognition of Peter and his successors as the center of spiritual authority. He who would build upon any other foundation builds upon sand. Any other design but this would result in a tower of Babel. May the day be hastened when we will all worship at the same altar—having one lord, one faith, one baptism and father of all.

"Let us pray for the illustrious pontiff, Leo XIII, who is today celebrating the golden jubilee of his episcopate. A pontiff who left the impress of his character upon almost every nation of the civilized world; who has his finger upon the pulse of the people, and has sympathy with their legitimate aspirations—above all a pontiff who loves America and cherishes her civil and political institutions."

In New York.

NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—The fiftieth anniversary of the consecration of Leo XIII as a bishop of the Roman Catholic church was celebrated by the members of the Catholic club last night. Incidentally, or perhaps by design, the restoration of his holiness to the temporal power was made the keynote of the addresses and embodied in a resolution expressing the concerted views of the club on the important event. Bishop Corrigan, who was the principal speaker of the evening, insisted on that point in his remarks on the characteristics and career of the present head of the Roman church.

At Jersey City.

JERSEY CITY, Feb. 20.—The pope's jubilee concert took place at the Academy of Music in this city yesterday afternoon and was attended by many prominent priests, and laymen from all the Catholic parishes of the diocese.

At Philadelphia.

GEORGE E. SPENCER DEAD.

He Once Represented Alabama in the United States Senate.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—George E. Spencer, ex-United States senator from Alabama died at 10 o'clock last night at his room in this city. Although he has been an invalid for a year or more, his death was unexpected. After recovering from a stroke of paralysis sustained in 1891, he came to Washington in December last with his wife, but shortly afterwards began to suffer from dropsy.

He so far recovered from this as to be able to attend to business, and yesterday afternoon visited the treasury department. Returning to his room he was seized with hemorrhage of the stomach; this was followed in the night by another stroke of paralysis, resulting in death at 10 o'clock last night.

EARTHQUAKES.

BOZMAN, Mon., Feb. 20.—Dr. Charles H. Plummer, of this city, has just returned from the Yellowstone National park. The doctor reports that a series of earthquakes have been felt in the park during the last few weeks, one of which was the most terrific eruption since the discovery of the park.

The main road south of Norris geyser basin caved in for a long distance, to an unknown depth. Parts of the park farther away have not been heard from on account of the immense snows. Above the mammoth hot springs there is a solid bed of snow, seven or more feet deep. Dr. Plummer reports that the mammoth Excelsior geyser is very active, and its great crater is filled with water.

Judge Jackson Confirmed.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—The senate Saturday confirmed Judge Jackson to be a justice of the supreme court in place of Lamar, deceased. There was, it is said, not a dissenting vote. It appears that the opposition to Justice Jackson, not being strong enough to compass rejection, was withdrawn altogether.

Cleveland's Sunday.

LAKEWOOD, N. J., Feb. 20.—Mr. Cleveland remained quietly at home yesterday. He had no callers and made no announcements in regard to the places in his cabinet which are not yet filled. He expects to remain at Lakewood all of this week.

TWO WEEKS MORE.

IMPORTANT BILLS NOT PASSED.

Appropriation Measures Will Probably Occupy Nearly All the Rest of the Time of the Remaining Twelve Days—Anti-Option Bill Not Liable to Pass.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—Only two weeks more and the present session of congress will be compelled to adjourn sine die. The appropriation bills are in a backward state in the house, owing to what threatened to be an interminable debate over the pension appropriation bill, and recourse will be had today to rapid transit in parliamentary procedure by passing the agricultural and naval appropriation bills under suspension of the rules.

It is possible that the New York bridge bill and the Utah admission bill also may come up under suspension of the rules. The passage of the agricultural and naval bills will leave before the house only the postoffice and Indian appropriation bills. It should not be a tedious task to get action by the house on these.

All the bills heretofore passed have been amended by the senate, however, and considerable time between this and March 4 will have to be spent in acting upon conference on the appropriations.

Mr. Hatch is getting restless over the delay in the rules committee on his request for a day for the anti-option bill, and it is almost certain that a move of some sort will be made by him this week. He has not asked for an opportunity to pass the bill under suspension of the rules, and it is asserted by its opponents that he could not so pass the bill if he tried. Two other courses are open to him: first, to get a special order from the rules committee, giving him a day for his bill and then to vote down the previous question as the silver men attempted unsuccessfully to do, and amend the order by making closure a part of it; second, to move to go into committee of the whole to consider revenue bills.

This latter course would put no curb on the filibusters, and therefore Mr. Hatch is not likely to take this course. If he did so, the fight would be one of endurance between the friends and opponents of the anti-options bill.

Notice has been given that the car conpler bill with senate amendments, will be called up Tuesday.

THE RED HOUSE HAUNTED.

The Blaine Family Anxious to Leave the Home Where They Now Reside.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—A friend of the Blaine family said that all the members of the family are exceedingly anxious to get away from the fatal red house where Mr. Blaine died. He said, quoting from the "Haunted House": "O'er all there hung the shadow of a fear. A sense of mystery the spirit haunted. That said as 'hain as whisper to the ear. The place is haunted."

He said the family would never return to the house after departing for the sojourn they are arranging for.

The corner of Fifteenth and Pennsylvania avenue is an open space belonging to the government. Adjoining this space on the avenue and to the east, is the department of justice, formerly the freedmen's bureau. The Blaine house adjoins the open space on the north and facing Fifteenth street and Lafayette park. It is believed the house will pass into the possession of the government, and the location incorporated with the rest of the area, and that a magnificent public building will in time occupy all of it.

O'DONNELL NOT GUILTY.

One of the Charges Against the Homesteaders Disposed Of.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 20.—After having been out all night the jury in the murder case against Hugh O'Donnell brought in a verdict of not guilty. The Homesteaders present were all greatly pleased with the verdict, and the attorneys for the commonwealth correspondingly depressed, for they had expected a manslaughter conviction. O'Donnell was taken back to jail, and an application for release on bail will be made on the charge of riot and treason still pending against him.

This ends the Homestead trials until the March term of court. It is possible that all the other cases may go over until the June term of court, and the Homestead men now in jail will be admitted to bail. The district attorney is unable to say when the next Homestead case will be tried, or what that case will be. The arguments for new trials in the Dempsey and the anarchist cases will be made this week, and then Homestead will sink into comparative obscurity for a time.

EXPRESS TRAINS COLLIDE.

Three Men Instantly Killed and Several Seriously Injured.

DENVER, Feb. 20.—The eastbound Atlantic express and the westbound Utah express on the Colorado Midland road, collided near Bath station, twenty miles from Leadville, Saturday morning. Both engines were completely wrecked and five passenger coaches demolished.

Three men were instantly killed and several seriously injured. The dead are: Engineer McCammon, Fireman McIntyre, Brakeman Bowersack.

Another railroad man had both legs cut off, and can not live. None of the passengers were injured. The dead and injured were taken to Colorado Springs. The accident was caused by misinterpretation or disobedience of orders.

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

For Tennessee and Kentucky, fair; north-westerly winds; slightly colder in Tennessee; decidedly colder in Kentucky.

It is now learned on the oath of Banker Seligman, of New York, that each member of the American end of the Panama fraud received $400,000 for use "to create a favorable impression." The French must imagine that the people of this country are not easily "impressed."

A MAN was fined $1,000 and sent to jail six months at Lexington Thursday for aiding and abetting his brother in shooting and wounding another citizen of that place. The papers speak of it as a heavy sentence. THE BULLETIN is of the opinion that the sentence is entirely too light.

THE New York World believes that the way to make a party greater and stronger is to attract and hold the best men of the opposition. Correct, as far as the World goes. While attracting and holding the best men of the opposition, the party must not lose sight of its own best men.

The ordinance recently passed by the City Council of Maysville for the laudable purpose of compelling dissolute scoundrels to support their families has excited a great deal of comment, says the Courier-Journal. Chief of Police Fitzgerald is the author of this measure, and he can be relied upon to do his part to enforce it.

THE necessity of a viaduct over Limestone Creek is apparent at this time. People living in the eastern part of the city are compelled to travel the K. C. railroad on account of high water. The attention of our City Council is called to the timely suggestion and we hope the question will early assume some practical shape.

At the recent session of the Underwriters' Union at Louisville it was debated whether or not it was cheaper to buy State Legislatures where laws are being passed hostile to their interests, or fight legislation in the courts. They seem to have a very poor opinion of legislative material. Insurance companies, like all other capitalists, protect themselves against adverse laws by increasing the cost to the insured.

How much damage it shall do is for the city itself to determine. If the town is made clean now, in all its public places the harm that cholera can do will be small. If it is not made clean and kept clean no man can foretell the limit of the malady's ravages. The city is now abominably dirty. What are we going to do about it?

The above appeared in the New York World last week in an article on the probable visit of cholera this summer. What is true of New York is true of most other cities. They should be "made clean, and kept clean."

Plum for the Editor.

Mr. James C. Edwards, editor of the Todd County Times, has just dropped into a nice berth. He has been selected by Senator Lindsay as his Private Secretary. The salary is $1,200 per annum.

Mr. Edwards is one of the brightest writers in the Kentucky newspaper fraternity, and is well equipped in every way to discharge the duties of the position to which he has been appointed. While he owns the Todd County Times, his home is in Russellville, where his father, the Hon. George T. and his brother, Mr. George B. Edwards, live. His residence in Washington will not interfere with the publication of his paper, which he will leave in competent hands.

A Remedy Suggested.

The Ashland Daily News has the following regarding the increase in freight charges made by the Cincinnati Packet Company and C. and O. road: "The shippers of Portsmouth are raising no small kick against the practice now in vogue on all the railroads entering Cincinnati from that city, of charging from 3 to 5 cents per hundred weight more on shipments from Portsmouth to Cincinnati, than on those from Cincinnati to Portsmouth. The roads have all combined in this, as has also the White Collar Line Packet Company, and the shippers are about at the mercy of the gang. The only remedy will be a centralized movement on the part of the shippers to give all their business to some line of steamers not in the combine, and if some enterprising boat owner would place his steamers in the Portsmouth and Cincinnati trade just now he would reap a rich harvest of dollars."

Newport Sensation.

The biggest sensation that has struck the city of Newport for many years was caused Saturday morning, when the Campbell County grand jury returned indictments against every member of the present Council and ex-Mayor A. S. Berry for malfeasance in office.

In addition to these, Councilmen Knobloch, Ryan and ex-Councilman Ben Keim were indicted for bribery, and ex-Mayor Berry for giving a bribe.

Six indictments were also returned against County Clerk Thomas Jones for malfeasance in office.

The report of the grand jury, when heralded abroad, fell like a thunder-clap upon the ears of our citizens, who, while knowing that an investigation of recent transactions was in order, did not feel that any indictments could be found.

The bribery cases, it is alleged, are the result of the late entrance into Newport of the electric light company, which tried to kick out the gas company.

The evidence offered in the indictments against Jones shows that his shortage in the County Clerk's office will be about $20,000. When the indictments were returned he went to the court house and made over his property to his bondsmen to indemnify them against any loss. It is believed the property will more than cover all liabilities. If a settlement is reached in that way Colonel Jones will hardly be prosecuted criminally, owing to his great age. Some of the friends of Colonel Berry claim to see a political move in the indictments against him. It is claimed the grand jury has but two Democrats on it, as against ten Republicans. Colonel Jones, however, is an old-time Republican, so that party lines do not seem to have been drawn. The commotion over the subject is very great at present and bitter personal feeling has been stirred up.

Congressman A. S. Berry says there is not the semblance of truth in either of the charges against him and the indictment were prompted by malice. He will insist on a speedy trial. He claims to have committed no errors except, possibly, errors in judgment.

Church Etiquette.

Says the Frankfort correspondent of the Louisville Times: "The writer has seen men and women at card parties, receptions, soirees and what not in most of the towns of the State, and in a number of the cities of the world. Everywhere there was a code of good manners, naturally or unnaturally understood and uniformly observed, but in no place has he ever seen uniform good manners in the churches. In the ritualistic churches, where nearly everything is form, it is bad enough, but in the pronouncedly protestant churches it is awful. The preacher says: 'The audience will please rise and be led in prayer.' About half of them 'rise,' as requested, a third lean complacently over on the pew, and a few sit bolt upright and chew tobacco and tolu. Then as the services begin to draw to a close, they begin to drift out by twos and threes, and the Lord's supper is served or the confession of some penitent taken amid such confusion as would be discountenanced in the cheapest variety theater in the world, and that ought to cause the curtains of heaven to be rung down on the offenders. This does not apply to Frankfort particularly."

For the Farmer.

The Minneapolis Market Record says: "The foolish farmer holds his wheat for a rise in price, the assessor assesses it, and the tax collector cometh around and collecteth his stipend, and the market refuseth to raise. The wise man selleth from the threshing, thereby he escaped additional taxation and interest on money borrowed. He watched not the market with feverish pulse, but devoted his mind to things more profitable, and his days shall be long upon the earth, and his hair turneth not gray from sorrow."

"Uncle Tom" at Boston.

Men may come and men may go, but Uncle Tom's Cabin is always sure of a welcome. The play can hardly grow old, for its theme is a thrilling one, its fame universal, and the new theatre goers are constantly growing up, whose dramatic education would not be complete without having witnessed the time-honored work.

The arrangement of the play is one of the best ever seen here, and the scenic effects were all that could be desired.—Boston Globe.

Ed. F. Davis' colossal spectacular Uncle Tom's Cabin Company will appear at opera house Tuesday, February 21st. Prices, 25, 35, 50 and 75 cents.

"Too Previous."

Says the Washington correspondent of the Courier-Journal: "The boys in the trenches" in Kentucky are just a wee bit impatient, and are flooding the members with applications for offices, especially for the positions of United States Gaugers and Storekeepers. These applications are just a trifle premature, and the applicants will have to wait probably four or five months before getting any of the usufruct."

THE WESTERN AND SOUTHERN

Issues the most liberal Life and Endowment Policies of any Industrial Company. Their advantages combine immediate benefit in case of death, paid up values after a specified term, and incontestability after having been issued three or more years. Why insure in the Western and Southern? Because it has paid $100,000 in Death Claims. Because it has issued over 100,000 policies. Because its policies are in immediate benefit and their payment is absolutely guaranteed by the company's assets and a special deposit of $100,000 with the State Treasurer for the sole protection of the policyholders. KENTUCKY'S EXHIBIT.

How the World's Fair Commissioners Are Planning to Use the $100,000 Appropriation.

The Kentucky Commissioners of the World's Fair have begun work in earnest and are giving their best efforts to the mighty task of getting together and arranging exhibits for the great Columbian Exposition in the short time that remains for the work, says the Lexington Leader. A budget has been made up by President Dulaney for the disbursement of the $100,000 appropriation, which is of more than passing interest. It has been discussed by the Board of Managers, but as yet has not been finally acted upon. It will give, however, a very accurate idea of the ultimate distribution of the fund, and shows at a glance that the management and building up of the State exhibit is no child's play.

The disbursement of the $100,000 will be about as follows:

Minerals and forestry, $10,000. Superintendent of department, Judge J. D. Black, Barbourville.

Live stock, $7,500. Superintendent of department, J. W. Yerkes, Danville.

Agriculture and dairy, $7,000. Superintendent of department, Dr. J. D. Clardy, Newstead, Hopkins County.

Horticulture, $3,000. Superintendent of department, Dr. J. D. Clardy.

Woman's department, $3,000. Under the supervision of the Board of Managers. Fine art, $3,000. Superintendent of department, Dr. A. D. James.

Education, $3,000. Superintendent of department, Dr. A. D. James.

Manufacturers, $2,000. Superintendent of department, W. H. Dulaney, Louisville.

Building at Chicago, completely furnished, etc., $25,000.

Current expenses, including printing and stationery, office rent, salaries, attendants at State building at Chicago, etc., practically making up the balance of the $100,000.

The location of the building is in the northern portion of the mammoth Exposition grounds, where practically all of the State buildings will be found grouped together. Work on the building was commenced about two weeks ago, and if it is not complete by the 22nd day of April the contract calls for a heavy penalty on the part of the builders for each day after that date.

The State building is of Gothic style, with large Southern porches and the dignified white pillars, so characteristic of the plantation homestead. The building, which will be, when completed, two stories high, is of wood, covered with "staff." The greatest length of the building is about ninety-seven feet, the greatest breadth about sixty-nine feet.

The building, which promises to be handsome and unique in its Gothic architecture, will be the "home" of Kentuckians at the great fair. It will represent Kentucky, neither pains nor money being spared to make its interior decorations and furnishings typify the true Kentucky sentiment in every respect. A handsome dining hall, with a genuine Kentucky cuisine, will swing open doors day and night.

"We have tried this with oatmeal and find it excellent and presume it is just as good with rice and hominy. The Scotch subsist largely on various preparations of oats and ought to know how to prepare them for the table.

MR. NICHOLAS CLOONEY, an old and respected citizen, died Saturday morning between 10 and 11 o'clock at his home on the Fleming pike just outside the city limits at the age of 63 years' after an illness of three or four days from inflammation of the bowels. He leaves a wife and four children, two sons and two daughters. Three children have preceded him to the grave. Mr. Clooney was strictly temperate, having taken the pledge from Father Mathew at his old home in Wyand-gap Parish, County of Kilkenny, Ireland, when he was very young. He was a good citizen and enjoyed the respect and esteem of all his acquaintances. Though he had been ill for a few days his death was sudden and rather unexpected. The funeral took place at St. Patrick's Church this morning at 10 o'clock after which his remains were interred at Washington.

IT is a singular thing that most of the creameries started in Kentucky, with all its advantages as an agricultural and live stock State, have failed from simple inability to get milk enough for their operations. For some reason it has been impossible to persuade the conservative Kentucky farmers that they will derive a great benefit from the success of such an enterprise, says the Courier-Journal.

COLONEL JOHN E. HAMILTON, the late law partner of Commonwealth's Attorney W. W. Cleary, has assigned at Covington to Richard P. Ernst for the benefit of creditors. Nearly every bank in Covington and several leading lawyers are caught by the failure.

The Ohio climbed up its banks at an alarming rate on Saturday night and Sunday. It remained nearly stationary last night and is at a standstill this morning. The gauge this morning marked 51 8-10. Aberdeen is partially under water on Front street, and in Maysville several families have been driven out of their homes by the rising water. Street car travel with East Maysville and Chester is suspended. The waves were very rough yesterday and did untold damage to the banks.

Second street extension is badly cut and washed. Winter & Scott's livery and sale stable on Wall street has been forced to remove to Daulton's stable.

In the Fifth ward the lumber dealers have been busy removing to higher places. People in the lower portions of Maysville have been put to much inconvenience but so far there has been no general damage or suffering.

MAY NEVER FIGHT.

Another Failure in the Mitchell-Corbett Match—Stakes Taken Down.

NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—Saturday was an exciting day for the fighters. When Superintendent Byrnes heard of the match and that Mitchell and Corbett's representative, Brady, were to meet in Park Row to try to come to some conclusions on the disputed point of the disposition of the purse, he decided to take a hand in the matter himself. So when Brady arrived at the office of George Dickinson, the temporary stakeholder, instead of finding Mitchell and his party he ran plump into the arms of Inspector Williams, with Captain Slevin and a squad of Central office detectives at his heels. Brady was anxious to make a match, but he did not loiter around the neighborhood after he heard that Mitchell had not arrived.

Mitchell, in some way, had received an intimation of the turn of affairs that the police had given matters as he was on his way from the Gedney House. The English pugilist, by reason of certain unfortunate experiences that attended the last two months of his life in England and his arrival in this country, has acquired a violent antipathy to police officers. He turned his cab around short, returned to his hotel, and then went for a sleigh ride in the park.

The officers were trying to prevent the match being made or the signing of the agreement in the state of New York.

The men met later in the afternoon. In order to protect the temporary stakeholder against the law, the first business transacted when the men met was the withdrawal of the stakes of $10,000 a side, posted the day before. Brady then stated Corbett's ultimatum. "There is no use of our wasting another minute over this match," said he. "It's fight for the whole purse or don't fight at all. Which shall it be?"

Mitchell did not answer the question categorically. "Of course," said he, "you understand I want to make the best terms I can. Do you see? If I was sure it was to be a fight to a knockout, and nothing could prevent such a termination of the fight, I would be as anxious as Mr. Corbett that his proposition should stand. But I'm a foreigner. The papers are down on me and so are many people. If it was in the referee's power to make a decision against me, he might do it. The foreigner always gets the worst of it. Do you see? I don't want to impeach American fairness, but such things have happened. Well, now I have come here to fight. I want to show people I'm not a bluffer. You understand me? I have conceded everything to Mr. Corbett. I'll concede this, too."

Brady then said: "On account of the trouble with the police I suggest that we go to Niagara Falls, on the Canadian side, next Saturday, and there draw up articles of agreement and sign them, the articles being the same as those we made yesterday, with the additional stipulation that the winner is to take the whole purse."

"Suits me elegant," was Mitchell's comment.

"Now," continued Brady, "I will pledge my word that I will be at Niagara Falls, and that I will sign these articles; will you pledge your word to do the same?"

"I will," answered Mitchell. "That is what I'm here for."

It was agreed to telegraph to "Dove" Blanchard, of Boston, to be in Niagara Falls next Saturday, to act as stakeholder in case Phil Dwyer should refuse to act in that capacity.

Whether the men will finally meet in the ring next December seems now to depend only on whether both parties will keep the pledge made Saturday.

THE WALKER FAILURE.

Over $150,000 Put Into a Plant with $50,000 Capital.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Feb. 20.—The sole topic of conversation in business circles continues to be the failure of Robert Walker and the appointment of a receiver for the stamping works and Girard stove works, which followed. As the facts come to light, and the financial condition of Mr. Walker and the concerns in which he was interested are better known, people are only surprised that the crash did not come months ago.

There are no dishonest motives attributed to Mr. Walker, and his failure is believed to be a bona fide one, though as complete as it could well be. Circumstances have proven he was floating a great deal more commercial paper than he was able to pay, and the public in a great many quarters censure him severely for deliberately carrying down the friends who had placed explicit confidence in him, and had indorsed notes without a question. They think Mr. Walker should have known that the plants on which he was expending the money raised through the kindness and blind confidence of those who trusted him could not be fully paid.

The stamping works, which have not assigned, but for which a receiver was appointed, is in an unsettled state. The company had a paid up capital of $50,000. Then it borrowed at various times and from banks and elsewhere throughout this section of the state $90,000, indorsed by Robert Walker personally. It also borrowed $10,000 on its own responsibility. This makes $150,000 that had been put in a plant with a capital of $50,000.

On every hand and from every person, irrespective of party, are heard expressions of sympathy for Governor McKinley, whose kindness, confidence and friendship led him into losing so much. A number of his friends here, who are among the ablest men in the city, have clubbed together and raised sufficient money to enable the governor to pay all the notes bearing his indorsements. This money will be loaned to the governor on his personal notes. By thus relieving the strain Governor McKinley can get in a position to liquidate the debts that have been piled on his shoulders.

The failure of Robert Walker caused a slight run on the Girard savings bank Saturday. Those who withdrew deposits were principally farmers. All demands were promptly met, and confidence is fast being restored.

Governor McKinley has returned to Columbus. He declined to talk about the failure, but said he would pay every note on which he had gone as surety. A statement was furnished Governor McKinley just before he left, which showed that there were $40,000 worth of notes out which bore his name as indorser. This was the total amount of the known ones, but there are several more, the amounts of which are not positively known, but which will run it up to about $60,000.

WHIPPED A GIRL.

White Cappers, Armed with Tar and Feathers, Fail to Find Their Victim.

BEDFORD, Pa., Feb. 20.—Saturday night twenty men, part of whom were masked, called at the house of John Pleasinger in the suburbs of the town, and asked for Orange Gordon, a colored man, who has been waiting on Pleasinger's daughter. Pleasinger showed fight, when four revolvers were thrust in his face, which had the effect of quieting him. They then searched the house, but Gordon had made his escape at the rear.

They then went up stairs, and finding the girl in bed gave her a mild thrashing with hickory switches. The girl showed fight, and succeeded in knocking one of the White Caps down. The party was provided with tar and feathers, and Gordon would have fared badly had he been found.

Mr. Neebe was elected state senator in 1890, his term expiring in 1894. He was one of the originators of the Pittsburgh Press club, and for two years its president, and was well known throughout the state. He was unmarried and lived with his father.

Castoria.

Dr. G. C. Osgood,
Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."

Dr. J. F. KINCHELOE,
Conway, Ark.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."

H. A. ANCHER, M. D.,
111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."
